You will now see the course information, and you can click “Confirm” (the main item to check is the Class: “Calculus Prep”).

Most likely, you don’t have an ALEKS login name, so you will choose that option and click “Continue.” If you have used ALEKS, you are welcome to use an existing login name.

Class Code:	99N3X-JMHDW
Class:	Calculus Prep - 2024-2025
Subject:	Prep for Calculus
Instructor:	Bethel Math
Class Dates:	06/06/2024 - 09/04/2025
Institution:	Bethel University (MN)

If you are a new user, fill in the next registration page. After you enter this page, a login name will be given to you – write this down, along with the password you picked. Then, press “Continue.” On the “Apply Access” choose “No, I need to purchase an access code” and “Continue.

If the option comes up for a “length of course” choose “6 weeks (short access)” which means you will complete your remedial work in 6 weeks. Choose “Continue” and then check the box after you read the terms and press “Continue” again. Fill in the credit card information to purchase the course. Review the order and then complete it.

Take advantage of any support information (instructions on understanding how ALEKS works) that is offered as you move forward in the program. ALEKS is quite user-friendly and will walk you through all of the features of this online program.

Make sure you take the review seriously and take advantage of this course – you will thank yourself later, as it will prepare you well for MAT124M Calculus 1.
