CATALOG AND CALENDAR

The CAS catalog is online at http://catalog.bethel.edu/arts-sciences. Full-time faculty receive a print copy of the catalog each August unless you indicate that you do not want one. Adjunct faculty may request a copy by sending an email to cas-academic-affairs@bethel.edu. New students can pick up a copy of the catalog starting during Welcome Week in the Campus Store for $2.00 each. The academic calendar is published in the catalog (http://catalog.bethel.edu/arts-sciences/academic-calendar/).

COURSE INFORMATION

Syllabus – All courses must have a syllabus. A copy of your syllabus must be submitted to your department chair and the Office of Academic Affairs. The Academic Affairs copy should be sent electronically to col-syllabus@bethel.edu no later than the end of the last day to add/drop a course: September 6, 2020 (fall), January 7, 2021 (interim) and February 7, 2021 (spring). The library would also appreciate a copy of your syllabus if your students will be completing research assignments. A list of items that must be included on your syllabus can be found on the Academic Affairs website (www.bethel.edu/undergrad/academic-affairs/faculty/policies).

Prerequisites – If your courses have prerequisites, you should include them in your syllabus and alert students to them on the first day of class so that they can determine if they are appropriately prepared for the course.

Attendance – Attendance must be taken by September 8, 2020 (fall) and February 8, 2021 (spring) (the day after the last day to add/drop a course) and students not attending must be reported in Beacon. You are encouraged to take attendance throughout the semester, using either Moodle or another means of your choice, as this information is important if a student withdraws from your class or fails (you will have to include the last day of attendance at the end of the term).

Grades – Bethel uses a traditional grading system (A-F). A plus sign (+) is used for grades B through D and a minus sign (-) is used for grades A through C. Bethel does not use grades A+, D-, F+, or F-. You may determine the points or percentage range for each of these grades. This information must be included in your syllabus.

Incompletes – If a student has been regular in class attendance and submission of assignments, but is unable to complete requirements for a course in the regular time due to causes that are beyond the student's control, the student may petition to receive a grade of Incomplete. A petition for a grade of Incomplete is only considered after the last day to withdraw.

Final Exams – Each class must include a two-hour final exam or other academic exercise (e.g. a unit exam, a paper, a class presentation) which takes place or is due at the exam time assigned by the Registrar. Final exams must be administered at the scheduled time. Students are required to take their exams at the scheduled time unless they have conflicts with an established work schedule, severe personal hardship, or three finals on the same day. In this case, students may ask one or more of their instructors to allow them to take a final at a different time. Note: Travel plans do not constitute severe personal hardship.

Class Lists and Room Assignments – Class lists and room assignments are available online: 0MyBethel>Faculty Academics tab>Active Courses. Once you select the term, the courses you are assigned will appear.

FACULTY

Faculty Absence – If you are unable to teach one of your classes and you know this in advance, please notify your department chair and your students well in advance. If on the day of a class you are ill or have an emergency, contact Academic Affairs (651.638.6800) and your department chair.

Evaluations – All faculty participate in a course evaluation process each term. Non-tenured faculty and adjunct faculty must have all their classes evaluated. Tenured faculty must evaluate at least one course per term. Please watch your email for information about course evaluation selection. You will receive an email each term asking you to provide information for that term's course evaluation.

Offices – All full-time faculty are assigned an office, usually in close proximity of their department colleagues. Adjunct faculty are given the option of shared office space, but these offices may not always be close to their department.

Office Hours – Full-time faculty are expected to hold office hours for several hours a week. Office hours should be posted on your door and included in your syllabus. Adjunct faculty should set aside at least one half hour per class session apart from the scheduled class time in order to be available to meet with students.

Official Communications – Official communications are channeled through your post office box, e-announcements, and your Bethel e-mail account. A post office box is assigned to each instructor. If you are new, you may pick up the key at the Post Office window (first level, HC building). New faculty e-mail accounts are activated when you set up your Bethel Community Account.

Library – Personnel in the Library (third level, HC building) are happy to accommodate the needs of you and your students. Specific readings or other materials to be required of your students can be placed on reserve if the Library receives advanced notification.

Textbooks – Textbook and other instructional materials are ordered prior to the registration for the term. Any questions should be directed to your department chair or to the Campus Store staff (second level, BC building, x6202). (All faculty receive the employee discount on the purchase of books and supplies in the Campus Store.)

Services – Consult your department chair regarding the availability of clerical, copying, and/or student assistant services.

Benefits and Salaries/Paychecks – Please contact the Office of Human Resources (x6119) regarding benefits or with questions about salaries/paychecks. NOTE: No compensation will be made before employment agreements and W-4 and I-9 forms have been completed.

Campus Parking – Faculty may park in any unrestricted area on campus. Vehicle registration is required. The registration form can be found online (https://www.bethel.edu/safety-security).

Professional Meetings – Faculty members are encouraged to regularly attend conferences in their field. (The typical travel funds for professional travel are not available for 2020-2021.) Academic Affairs (x6036) tracks each faculty member's balance for the current biennium. June 1, 2019 was the beginning of the new biennium. (Does not apply to staff who teach.) Adjunct faculty who are in the adjunct plus category receive professional meeting funds on a prorated basis. Additional information can be found online (bethel.edu/undergrad/academic-affairs/faculty/policies).

FERPA Training – FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974) training is required for all employees (staff and faculty) of Bethel University. Bethel provides online FERPA training as well as face-to-face sessions. Every employee must complete FERPA training through one of these two methods. Classroom trainings will be available. Online training is available on the Registrar's FERPA site (https://www.bethel.edu/registrar/ferpa/). FERPA training must be completed on an annual basis

STUDENTS

Academic Appeals and Course Content Concerns – Appeals related to grades, status in programs, decisions of the Registrar in applying academic policies to a course, or to requirements for a major or a minor should be made as soon as possible following the decision in question. For appeals and concerns about course content and procedures, the student will seek to resolve the matter first with the instructor or with the party directly responsible for the decision, and then with the department chair. (If the instructor is the department chair, the student should contact the Dean of Faculty.) If after talking with the instructor and the department chair the matter is not resolved, the student may appeal in writing to the Dean of Faculty. This written appeal must be received within three weeks of the decision. (https://catalog.bethel.edu/artssciences/general-information/academic-appeals/)

Academic Honesty – Every member of the college community is responsible for upholding the highest standards of honesty at all times. Students, as members of this community, are also responsible for adhering to the principles and spirit of academic honesty. Violation of honesty standards can result in denial of credit (U or F) in a course, as well as dismissal from the college. Penalties are given at the discretion of the faculty member and violations must be reported to the Associate Provost through Beacon. Academic Affairs keeps a record of academic honesty violations to be aware of repeat offenders. Students charged with a violation have the right to appeal any disciplinary action. Contact the Office of Academic Affairs for details on the appeal process. Be clear on your syllabus about the consequences of academic dishonesty in your classes. See catalog for further academic dishonesty definitions (https://catalog.bethel.edu/arts-sciences/general-information/academic-honesty/).

Concerns About Students – Beacon (Bethel Early Alert Connection) is a software system designed to facilitate student care. Course Progress Reports are submitted through Beacon and should be used when students are not performing well in class, missing multiple assignments, or missing too many classes. Beacon alerts are used when you want someone to be aware of a general concern about a student. The information submitted goes to a care team who follows up as needed. Violations of academic honesty are also submitted through Beacon. Students are copied via email on Course Progress Reports and violations of academic honesty. Students are not copied on alerts unless you request it.

Disability Accommodations – The University is committed to providing accommodations for students and employees. Disability-related accommodations for students are determined by the Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (OARS). Students are responsible to contact OARS. Once OARS determines that accommodations are to be made, they will notify the student and the instructor via e-mail. Students choosing to use the disability-related accommodations must contact the instructor no later than five business days before accommodations, but the student is required to initiate the process for the accommodations.

Student Load – The average student load is about 15 semester credit hours. Interim load is usually 3 credits and may not exceed 5 credits. A 3-credit course is generally expected to require 8–10 hours per week of the student's time (10–12 hours for a 4-credit course).
